- Attempt All Three Questions.
 - All Questions Carry Equal Marks.
1. State and discuss the problem of substance in Pre-Socratic ancient philosophical perspective. You may conclude your answer with a critical assessment.
 2. David Hume contends, “To hate, to love, to think, to feel, to see; all this is nothing but to perceive.” State and discuss Hume’s philosophical analysis of human perceptions with the help of quote.
 3. Define ethical perspective. Aristotle maintains that “Anybody can become angry - that is easy, but to be angry with the right person and to the right degree and at the right time and for the right purpose, and in the right way - that is not within everybody's power and is not easy.” Describe and analyze Aristotle’s ethical perspective with the help of quote. You may conclude the answer with your assessment.
